ABOUT NIKI

I know that being in front of a camera doesn't come naturally to everyone, which is why creating a relaxed and comfortable experience is so important to me. My goal is to help you feel at ease and enjoy every moment of your celebration, surrounded by the people who matter most.

Celebrating motherhood is such a special milestone, and I feel incredibly grateful to play a small part in documenting these memories. From the excitement and anticipation to the love shared between family and friends, I'm honoured to preserve these moments for you to cherish long after the day is over.
